INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS CELL

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) refer to the legal rights granted to inventors and creators to protect their innovations, including Patents, Trademarks, Copyrights, and Industrial Designs.

The IPR Cell was established at Don Bosco College with the objective of fostering an environment that nurtures creativity, innovation, and research. The cell aims to encourage, safeguard, and promote the original ideas and inventions of both faculty and students, thereby contributing to institutional and collective growth in research and development.

FUNCTIONS OF THE IPR CELL:

1. To encourage and protect new inventions, designs, software, brand identities, and other innovative outputs generated within the college.
2. To organize seminars, workshops, and awareness programs to educate faculty and students about IPR laws, procedures, and best practices.
3. To assist in verifying the originality of research and creative work through plagiarism checks and IPR validation processes.
4. To facilitate the filing and management of IPR applications (patents, trademarks, copyrights, etc.) in collaboration with legal and governmental bodies.
5. To maintain a repository of intellectual property created within the institution and promote its ethical and commercial utilization.
6. To collaborate with industry and research organizations for IPR-based projects and innovation transfer.
